PRICE THREE CENTS.

SENIORS WIN MEET.

Sophomores Get the Relay Race in an Exciting Contest.

The Seniors walked away with the annual Class Indoor Meet Wednesday evening, getting four firsts, three seconds, one third, and four fourth places out of eight events, but losing the relay race to the Sophomores by a few inches. The final score was: '06, 35; '08, 29½; '07, 22, and '09, 11½.

There were over seventy-five persons present, excepting the contestants, but the percentage of students was so small that organized class cheering was weak. The few present, however, supported their men loyally and vociferously.

President and Mrs. Pritchett were present, and Dr. Pritchett presented the winners of first, second and third places with silver loving cups.

The high jump, the first event of the evening, was an interesting contest. Farrington, '06, easily won, while Rapelye, '08, and Very, '09, fought it out for second place, the former winning out. The snake-like jumping of Farrington created great amusement.

The 600-yard run was close and exciting. Moses, '09, led most of the way, but was passed by both Godfrey, '09, and Howe, '06, on the last lap, the former winning by a few inches.

Only three men were entered in the pole vault. Farrington, '06, won, while Orr, '08, and Very, '09, tied for second place, the former winning the jump-off for the second cup.

The 35-yard dash was an unusually exciting event, the preliminary heats failing to reveal in the least by whom the race would be won. The semi-final heats left Richards, '07, Todd, '08, Noyes, '07, and Gibbons, '06, in the final contest, the men finishing in the order named in a close race.

The 1000-yard run was Gimson's race from the start, and though closely followed by Howard, '06, he kept a steady pace, which proved to be a winning one. The other contestants held their distance well, every man running a steady race.

In the mile run, Clapp, '06, took the lead and won out by twenty yards in the fast time of five minutes and two seconds. Howland, '08, won second place by a hard sprint on the last two laps, passing several men.

The seniors won the first three places in the shot-put, the sophomores getting the other place. Polhemus won from Breitske by a narrow margin.

The 40-yard high hurdle race required three heats before being settled. 1907 had three men in the final heat and won the first three places, Farrington, '06, coming in fourth.

The relay race between 1906 and 1908 provided great excitement. Todd, '08, got the lead at the start.

THE TECH calls attention to the fact that owing to the coming examinations and the subsequent mid-year vacation publication will be suspended with this issue until Feb. 7, 1906.

Because of the gloomy thoughts produced by the appearance of the "exam" schedule, don't forget to study the time-table for the earliest possible train to take for home.

"Mr. Aaron Merritt returned to Boston, Mass., Tuesday, where he is attending the Boston University of Technicology."

When he attended Yale possibly the spelling was Yule!

The Co-op, managed by students, should presumably be conducted with intelligence and economy. But as a matter of fact there is much careless and needless waste of material in the way that paper and tracing cloth is dispensed at the booths in Engineering A and Pierce Building.

The spirit of dissatisfaction which seems to exist over the rumor that the Junior Prom Committee intended to raise the subscription

A Rumor price this year seems to show what a narrow view the class as a whole has of this matter. THE TECH thinks such action on the part of the committee would tend to increase the usual deficit rather than diminish it, but at the same time we ought all to remember that the committee have to assume all the responsibilities and are liable for any obligations contracted in the performing of their duties.

Such action would be somewhat of a departure from the custom of previous years, and seems inadvisable in that some might be excluded by this rule. On the other hand, the class, by its choice of these men, expressed its willingness to support any of their decisions, and to abide by them, as has been done in the past.

In former years there has usually been a deficit which the individual members of the committee had to meet. The idea may be to remove such a difficulty, but as this has never been tried before, the result is still an open question.

Usually attendance is not the thing to be worried about, as the ball is too often overcrowded, but the proceeds invariably fall short of the expenses. This seems the strongest motive for increasing the subscription. If this method would exclude the underclassmen only, its adoption would possibly be a benefit, but it cannot fail to affect others also. Since the committee must bear all the responsibility, it seems but fair that they should be allowed to use their own judgment, unless the class is willing to assume the chances of a deficit, and itself fix the assessment. But as yet no authoritative announcement of the rumored step has been made.

The committee should remember that Junior Promenade is a Technology as well as a class affair, and THE TECH hopes that nothing will be done to impede its success.
